THE TIMES.

A. H. C. MENT, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY MAY, 2, 1906.

WHAT HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE?

The Portsmouth Star is authority for the statement that the Norfolk Dispatch, which was recently merged with the Ledger, was bought by "W. J. Payne, the street railway magnate, and his associates, disguised as the Norfolk-Newport News Publishing Company. In other words, the afternoon field in Norfolk and Newport News is now in the control of the owners of the Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company of Norfolk, and the gas works, electric-light works, trolley system and other public service corporations of Newport News." Just so, and yet we boast of the freedom of the press—verily, "the ox knoweth its owner and the ass its master's crib." "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." The people or the plutocrats? One or the other must suffer in the fight. If this thing continues newspapers will be without influence even in their advertising columns. Editorials will become as "sounding brass and tinkling cymbals."

TOUCH ELBOWS AGAIN.

Confederate veterans in goodly numbers met in New Orleans during the week just gone, lighted the camp fires again, revived memories of a dead but ever dear past, communed one with the other and with the army of comrades who have gone before. The ranks are thinning but the devotion of those who still answer roll call is undying. Gordon was not with them, nor Fitz Lee, nor Wheeler. Can you imagine the scene if Stonewall Jackson had been spared to attend just one such reunion?

The Confederates will meet in Richmond in 1907, and there will be a mighty gathering, for in addition to the interest which always attaches to the occasion, at that time the monument to Jefferson Davis will be unveiled and the gates to the Jamestown Exposition will have opened. Mayor McCarthy is a success as an invitation orator.

Mr. Roosevelt made a mistake in intimating that the relief committee of San Francisco appointment could not be trusted, but like a brave man as he is he promptly corrected it. "Strenuous" people are often carried away by the impulses of the moment.

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot comes to us bright, sparkling, clean and cultured. The pen is still mighty when in hands of such men as Wm. R. Cameron. There is not an issue that does not contain a gem. What living man can excel "Pocahontas a Myth?"

Gorky says he has come to America for "money, money, money with which to free Russia." "We have troubles of our own," brother, for we need all the spare money we can command for improvement of our public highways.

"Pretty low. High finance now turned around spells victory. People who are afraid of freckles never make hay while the sun shines. There are men who seem to think it is better to be well heeled than whole-souled."

Senator Tillman says, in a communication written for the Philadelphia Press, that "after eleven years in the Senate he has learned to know that there are but few corrupt men in it." The wonder is that he had not called their names.

Mr. Bryan is now spoken of as the "Conservative." Will the average Gold-Bug Democrat (?) believe that and vote for him if he is nominated? If so he will be the next President of these United States.

We all know what the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina, and now we are all anxious to know just what the Governor of Virginia telegraphed to the Governor of Massachusetts.

The "D. A. R.'s" are evidently daughters of fighting stock. Their sessions are always stormy, and while they do not come to blows there are oft repeated "knock-outs."

That earthquake shock in San Francisco has been felt around the globe and has made the world of men "wondrous kind."

Everytime the Astor-Shaw nuptials are mentioned the Times-Dispatch says "Shaw."

When Massachusetts teaches Virginia lessons in good manners or good morals "evening will blush to own a star."

Now that the shock is over San Francisco will suffer no real want, and in ten years there will be a fairer, greater San Francisco.

Slemp & Son are not to have a walk-over even in the Southwest. Patronage kicks about as hard as it shoots.

Ex-President Cleveland tried fancy farming and abandoned it in disgust. There is but one way to farm and that is to farm.

Governor Swanson is right. It is high time that Virginia Exposition building was well under way. In one year from now its doors should fling wide open.

John Temple Graves, the gifted Georgian, had rather be Editor than Senator and so in the first issue of his new paper he announces his retirement from the Senatorial race.

Better that there should be no Jamestown Exposition than that we should have it at the sacrifice of one social barrier or of one moral obligation.

"Its the other fellow every time who has the easy job." So say we all. We know where our shoe pinches but we know nothing of the pinch of our neighbor's.

Governor Swanson is winning golden opinions from the tenor and tone of his public utterances. There is a moral up-lift about them which is refreshing and inspiring.

After calamity had spent its force on San Francisco the angel Charity flew to the relief of the stricken city and still lingers there in loving ministrations.

The latest is that Mr. Roosevelt wants to be Senator at the expiration of his term and then come back to the White House after a lapse of one term. Some people "want the earth."

It has already been agreed that if Mr. Glass is Governor, Mr. Tucker will be made Colonel, and if Mr. Tucker is the Governor Mr. Glass will be made Colonel. "Honors are easy."

American hospitality would become a by-word and a reproach if, after inviting the nations of earth to meet us at Jamestown, we should fail to make provision for their entertainment. Let us hope that such an outrage will not be permitted to stain our fair name.

Enonville.

Sunday-school, which was organized at Enon on the fourth Sunday in April, was largely attended last Sabbath, with Mr. E. W. McCran as superintendent and K. J. Dunevant as assistant, a splendid staff of teachers and officers and a large roll of pupils.

Mr. Charlie Coleman, of Lanes Bottom, W. Va., is at home for a month's vacation. His many friends are glad to see him after an absence of 17 months.

Mr. Willie Fitzgerald of the U. S. Navy arrived at his home at Dillwyn Friday, to the delight of his many friends. Much anxiety had been felt for the young man's safety, he being in San Francisco during the recent earthquake and fire.

Miss Vertie Wright, of Lynchburg, is visiting friends and relatives at Enonville.

Mrs. C. T. Gunter has been quite indisposed for several days.

Rev. H. T. Ranson continues quite ill. He is suffering from a bleeding cancer.

Mrs. A. E. Coleman is improving under Dr. Nowlin's treatment.

Mr. James Gillespie is quite indisposed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Puryear are visiting friends here.

Nearly every day for several miles around here has either died or had to be killed. Some say it is a disease known as "black tongue," others think it hydrophobia.

Rolling Hill.

Well, Mr. Editor, I am sure you would like a few items from this little place. I have been waiting for several weeks thinking Carline or Lucindy would write, but fear that Carline is turned out, so you can imagine there are other thoughts than the newspaper in her head.

All our farmers are just as busy as they can be. Corn planting time is here and very few have finished plowing, the spring being so late and the weather so changeable.

Easter, with her sunshine and flowers, came and went. Most of our young people spent the entire day on Cub Creek fishing, but there seems to be few fish in the creek.

It is with sadness we chronicle the death of Mrs. P. R. Ford, wife of Peyton R. Ford, who died at her home last Wednesday night. She had been sick since the first of fall. All was done for her that loving hands could do, but the end had come and no power on earth could save her. She is survived by her husband, one sister, one brother and six children, two daughters, Mrs. Lillie Ferguson of Evergreen, Miss Estelle Ferguson of Evergreen, Miss Estelle Ford and Mrs. Charles H. of Polarski City, John D. of Augusta, Ga., Robt. M. of Milford, Conn., and Arthur M. of New York city, to mourn their loss. She has a host of friends who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

Miss Elvie Hancock, of Rough Creek, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Scott Shorter.

Misses Sallie and Addie Hunter, Estelle and Ellie Thornton expect to spend a few days in the Hill City this week, doing their spring shopping.

The many friends of Mr. Floyd Fleshman will be glad to learn the doctors have hopes of his recovery now. As was stated in last week's issue, he was taken to Lynchburg last Tuesday to be operated on for appendicitis. We hope he will soon be able to return home.

Miss Lizzie Wingfield, who has been attending Keyaville high school, came home Easter to spend several days with her home people.

Miss Annie Wheeler, of your village, spent Easter with her parents.

Mr. Joe Wilson visited his home people last Sunday.

Miss Carrie Wilson paid a flying visit to Hill City last week.

Harding—Green.

A beautiful marriage was celebrated at Bethel Church, Appomattox county, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Emma L. Green became the bride of Mr. Robert A. Harding, both of Lynchburg, Va. The couple were ushered by Messrs. R. A. Green, T. B. Scruggs, Walter Brown and Norman Woodson, and attended by Mr. Thomas Caldwell, with Miss Mary L. Chick; Mr. Henry Routon, with Miss Bessie Webber; Mr. John Green, with Miss Anna Gannaway; Mr. Thomas Candler, with Miss Mattie Sue Brown, and Mr. Joseph Green, with Sallie A. Scruggs, as waiters. Misses Ruby Chick and Ruth Webber were flower girls. Mr. Calvin Chick was best man and Miss Mary F. Green, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bride and groom were handsomely attired, and this, with the appropriate and tasteful attire of the attendants, the sweet music by Miss Mabel Chick, the splendid church decorations and the impressive ceremony by Rev. H. F. B. Martin, of Lovingston, Va., made this, the first marriage in Bethel Church, the new edifice, one of the most fashionable and elegant of the season. An excellent supper was served in the evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. R. A. Green, and the occasion was a happy one for all.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding will be at home in Lynchburg to their friends May the first.

The Virginia Business Directory and Gazetteer, a publication issued by the Hill Directory Company, Richmond, Virginia, is out. Price $6.00. This work contains the New Constitution of Virginia, full list of Virginia Post Offices, full list of Express, Money Order and Telegraph Offices, full description of each city, town, village and county in the State, together with all the State, County, and town officials, and a large list of Farmers arranged by counties and listed by Post Offices. There is no such publication to be had in the State, and owing to that fact the Virginia State Board of Agriculture has given the following endorsement of the work:

Gentlemen:—After the presentation to the State Board of Agriculture of a sample copy of your publication entitled "Virginia Business Directory" and "Gazetteer," the Board was pleased with your plan. It gives me pleasure to say that this Department will be glad to render all assistance it can in the compilation and distribution of the work, believing that such work is sadly needed by the State, and as this Department is unable, for the want of sufficient appropriation, to publish anything as elaborate in its scope, we hope that each county in the State will render assistance and encouragement to enable you to fully carry out your plans

At this point both sides expressed themselves as being satisfied, when Justice Thorpe enquired if the gentlemen desired to argue the case; Counsel declining, Mr. Flood said he thought it was a proper case for the grand jury, and the Justice sent the case on. Then Mr. Flood moved the court to admit the accused to bail, which motion was overruled by the Court and the prisoner was remanded to jail.

Notice was served on Mr. Ferguson that he would renew his application for bail before Bail Commissioner Horseley, after supper. This was done, but the hearing of the motion was postponed until next Thursday.
